PROJECTS

Smart E-business for small enterprise

Link to Demo

A web application where all small enterprises and medium enterprises register and upload all the product details and make them available to the customers. Our project will also provide analysis and analytics of the products and management of capital of the enterprise.

Phishing website detection from website URLs

Link to Demo

A website that will be used to detect whether a website is legitimate or phishing using Machine learning algorithms. In our project, we applied algorithms like Logistic Regression, Naive Bayes, Support vector Machine and Random Forest Classifier to the model that was developed. During testing, it was observed that the system worked well and as expected. Our project aims to improve the detection method for detecting phishing websites using machine learning technology
